

EXERCISE BASIC HYGIENE PRACTICES

YOUR GUESTS HAVE A PART TO PLAY IN THE SUCCESS OF YOUR EVENT, BY FOLLOWING THESE PRACTICES:

Familiarise themselves with the symptoms of COVID-19.

Practice social distancing particularly in marked areas, in lifts and lift lobbies.

Washing their hands often with soap and using an alcohol-based hand sanitiser.

Avoid handshakes.

Covering their mouth while coughing and sneezing.

If unwell, they should stay home and seek medical attention immediately if showing any of the viral symptoms.

Keeping their hands away from eyes, nose and mouth to prevent germs from spreading.

Disinfecting work spaces/surfaces regularly.

WHAT OUR EMPLOYEES ARE DOING

Doltone House has established a safe workspace policy that follows the best practices listed in this document and any additional requests from NSW Health or relevant Government authority to minimise the risk of spreading COVID-19.

Our Chefs and Front of House staff have all completed the COVID-19 awareness for food service course created by NSW Health.

We strongly urge you to communicate these best practices with all of your intended guests to ensure that together, we can deliver a successful event experience in a safe manner for all involved.
